COUGARS PREPARED FOR BOBCAT IN PROVO

INJURIES BRING SHIFT TEAM

Richardson, Bertotti and Collins out for Season

By JOHN DOMINA
When browny toes meet shaggy pigtails in the opening kickoff of the B. Y. U.-Montana State game in the Y stadium today at 2:45 p. m., Brigham Young University will be engaging a dangerous and wily foe.

Despite the crushing defeat administered them by Utah a week ago, Montana State, in the opinion of Coach Ott Romney, remains a worthy opponent for B. Y. U. in the twelfth annual homecoming game.

"When Montana State plays homecoming of bobbies," says Coach Romney, "they will make a strong showing."

"Utah made no long gains against the Bobcats," points out Coach Romney. "They pulled up their large score by continual battering and pounding of a lighter team."

And B. Y. U. will be playing at far from full strength injuries have brought havoc in the Cougar ranks. The intercollegiate contest, with the West Coast Marine as the guest, proved exceedingly damaging to the Cougar squad.

Four Men Lost
Four men are lost to the team for this game, and probably three for the season. The veteran Vernon ("Foxy") Richardson, who has been expected to perform heroically at tackle this year again, injured the bad knee which kept him out of many games last year. He will be lost to the team for the season.

George Bertotti, star halfback last year, also injured his knee severely. He did not return with the team, but is rumored at his home on the coast. His services also are lost for the season.

Hunt Sanford, halfback, received a knee thruster injury which will keep him out of the lineup for some time. Floyd Carter, a promising and capable date, also was injured, and will not return to action with.

Notwithstanding the loss of these players, Coach Romney can still field a formidable team onto the field. Coach Romney, Max Warner and Captain "Fay" Nissen, Romney feels are great guns in any football machine. The rest of the line is reliable, but light.

"The backfield is injured, but will be lucky to handle it," says Coach Romney. "The line is strong, and we will be lucky to handle it."

THRILLS ASSURED IN HOMECOMERS

10 Bands to Participate In Parade; First Aid Contest Is Attraction

Too much?
Well, at least, plenty.
This is bound to be the verdict in regard to Saturday's activities when Brigham Young University stages its annual homecoming celebration. The football game, the Utah-Nevada Safety Society convocation, and the Provo Chamber of Commerce hold its celebration.

B. Y. U. has a major part in the gigantic program, which includes a monster parade, football rally, the B. Y. U.-Montana State game, the annual cross-country race and an alumni banquet and dance.

The program started last night with a "pop" dance in the ladies' gym at 8:30. Following the dance a football rally was held at the Paramount theatre.

Today will be replete with action. The parade, consisting of 10 large bands and several bands, will start at 9:30 a. m. The parade will follow the route from the stadium to the football game, the Utah-Nevada Safety Society convocation, and the Provo Chamber of Commerce hold its celebration.

STUDENTS TO OBSERVE LIBRARY "ETIQUETTE"

Under the direction of Miss Anna Olferton, librarian, the following signs have been compiled in order to assist both old and new students to adjust themselves to the terms of library "etiquette," the observance of which is essential to the efficiency of library management.

BE CONSIDERATE—Silence must be maintained. If you wish to converse, the lobby outside is provided for your convenience. Give yourself the exercise you need by lifting your chair instead of dragging it, and be remember that even a chair's rattles can be a distraction to your "studying."

BE REASONABLE—Orderliness is a virtue; but when you clutter up books with reference works of your choosing and leave them there, other students in need of these references may observe valuable time searching.

BE OBSERVANT—Library attendants are very ready and willing to assist, but the least of help comes to a good use. Observe the location of sets and volumes, and learn to be efficient—use your time and the time of other busy people.

BE HONEST—Books in the reading and reference rooms are for use in that room ONLY. On NO ACCOUNT remove them elsewhere; neither new magazines from the magazine room.

BE CONSERVING—Vandalism has no place in libraries. To cut out or write material from any book, newspaper or paper is an unpardonable crime. To mark with pen or pencil in any book not your own is an act of disrespect.

BE COURTEOUS—On presenting your request to assistance at the desk, have your wants definitely in mind. To find the book you want goes to the particular use of debaters; students wishing to study should use the general reading and study hall downstairs.

Only graduate students and cities who have the permission of their own professor, are permitted to go to the stacks for books.

Library books may be kept for two weeks, or extended for an additional two weeks, if needed for. The penalty for infraction of rule is 10 cents per book.

No book on "reserve" may be kept longer than one book, and must be used in the reading room. "Reserve" books may be taken at 5:30 p. m. for overnight study, but MUST be at the desk at 9:30 the next morning.

The next morning, the books must be returned to the desk at 9:30 a. m. Monday following.

250 FRESHMEN GIRLS MEET WITH SPONSORS

ALISON COMISH OUTLINES A. W. S. ACTIVITIES

Colleen Hall was the scene of much activity Monday afternoon, when 250 freshmen girls met with their sponsors.

The meeting commenced at 2:30 p. m. in the gymnasium, where the girls were divided into groups of 25 each, welcomed the girls and conversed about the sponsors.

After the sponsors had been introduced, the program of the afternoon was discussed, and an announcement of the Freshman Week was made.

The first Ph. D. degree awarded by an American school of tropical agriculture was granted to an American student by the University of Hawaii in Honolulu, June 6. The degree was conferred upon Captain John S. Phillips, who served in the British army in the World War and holds three degrees from Oxford university.

STOP PRESS NEWS

Brigham H. Roberts, 76, president of the first council of seventy of the L. D. S. church, and famed as a powerful and able speaker and writer of histories and theological works, died Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. at the L. D. S. hospital in Salt Lake City.

The life of Mr. Roberts is a romantic story of achievement in the face of humble circumstances to a position of eminence in the church field. He became one of the state's most erudite men, and his powers of oratory were legion.

He was a thorough student of Utah and L. D. S. church history, and his writings are among the finest of his kind. The climax of his writing career came in 1930, when, at 64, in the 100th anniversary of the founding of the church, his monumental work on the L. D. S. history was published.

RALPH JENSEN APPOINTS BANYAN STAFF MEMBERS

The staff of the 1934 Banyan is quickly taking form, with the appointment to three major positions by Editor Ralph Jensen.

Earl Cottam takes over the duties of sales manager, and is launching an extensive sales campaign for the first few weeks of the quarter. Oakley Evans was named advertising manager, and Otto Deane photographic editor.

Students desiring to assist in the Banyan staff department are requested to see Edith Young or Gean Clark.

Student Registration Reaches Higher Total Than Previous Years

Registration totals are maintaining a lead of approximately 200 over previous years for the first week of last year, with 1971 given as the latest number available for the Y News went to press.

Since the largest enrollment at B. Y. U. history was recorded last year, records already set up this year indicate that the total enrollment by the time registration closes for the quarter will set a new record.

Students from coast to coast and from Canada to Mexico have already registered, and new students from surrounding territory are still arriving daily. The large number of 16 the first week of the year from the small city of Rupert, Idaho, is an indication of the large number of students in history from southern Idaho and California.

Belated arrivals are still being accepted, and it is hoped that the registration totals steadily mounting. Registration will be officially completed Saturday night, however, since the late registration fee goes into effect Monday day, October 2.

Lardner's Death Loss to Public

Resulting directly from inattention on continuing copy writing was the cause of the late Monday, September 28, of King W. Lardner, renowned American humorist and short story writer.

He had been writing for years a newspaper sports writer, and is credited with revolutionizing sports reporting, particularly baseball writing. Shortly after the World War he left newspaper work to become a syndicate writer, and turned his attention to short story and play writing.
